MARRIED.

LEMMON — PLUMMER.—In Oakland, on Thanksgiving Day, by the Rev. Dr. L. Hamilton, John Lemmon, botanist. Oakland, formerly of Michigan, to Sara A. Plummer, botanist, Santa Barbara, formerly of New York—No cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon will reside in Oakland during the coming winter and will be glad to welcome botanical and other friends at their new herbarium rooms, north wing of Blake House, cor. of Washington and 12th streets, opposite New Masonic hall, on the Thursday following Thanksgiving (Dec. 2nd) from 1 to 4 o'clock p. m. and on Thursday afternoons thereafter.

[Mich., N. Y. and N. Eng. papers please copy.]

Getting Ready For Thursday Night.

At Kimball's hall on Saturday evening a number of members of the Athletic Club, with some friends, took a little dancing exercise preparatory to the gymnastic exhibition and hop of Thursday evening next. Mr. Dillman's success as a caller was encouraging, and Mr. Fassett displayed creditable facility and grace in handling the Indian clubs to music. All present had a pleasant evening. The entertainment on Thursday evening promises to be a great success.

A story was abroad last evening to the effect that a lady athlete from Virginia, arrayed in bewitching tights, had been exercising at the hall in the afternoon, and would assist the Club on Thursday night. This awakened fresh interest in the Club among the men about town, and several announced their intention of joining the Club immediately. One church member, after he had heard the news, remarked that he had been running down physically lately, and that he thought gymnastics were just what he needed to set him up again. Investigation showed that the lady athlete from Virginia was only a drunken squaw who had been making a spectacle of herself near the bridge.

It is, however, true that a lady athlete will perform in the entertainment of Thursday evening. Miss Young of Virginia, is coming down to assist, and will be a great attraction. Her picture, as she appears in tights, may be seen at Goeggel's Jewelry store.

Nature's Great Decorator.

The new reservoir commands a fine view of Washoe valley. Looking yesterday from its banks one could see the smoke rising from the chimneys of the town straight upward through the motionless air. The stillness was impressive. The very silence seemed to sleep. The valley lay brown and bare beneath the sun, whose rays glittered in splendor on the grand snow draped mountains round about. How much beauty the snow adds to the hills and mountains. All the harshness and staring barrenness of the rugged range to the east have been hidden from view, and the range itself transformed and transfigured by its winter mantle. Far away to the northeast are distinctly seen the shining summits of a range of mountains, now glorified and made prominent by the snow. In summer they are unnoticed or invisible.

Fresh Assets.

Some forgotten assets of the Farmer's Cooperative Store have just come to light. A mowing machine and a horse rake belonging to that establishment, and stored for safe keeping somewhere on Gen. Hatch's place, have just been brought out for sale. This is something of a satire on cooperation.

Last Night of the Fair.

The Catholic Fair at the Pavilion closes this evening. There will be no charge for admittance to-night, and the dancing will probably be very lively. Several of the most valuable articles, including the gold watch and the ice pitcher, are yet to be chanced off.

A Case of Base Deception.

The confidence of a San Francisco lodging house keeper was recently sadly betrayed by an unprincipled young man who resorted to an entirely new dodge to deceive her and escape the payment of his just dues for room rent. He went to the lodging house with a trunk and secured a room. The rent was payable weekly, "strictly in advance." The youth paid for his first week's rent, but subsequently grew apparently careless of his obligations to his landlady, and regardless of her pointed references to the necessity of cash in her business. Still, feeling that she had measurable security in her lodger's trunk, she did not press for payment until a month's rent was due, when she told him that on the following Monday he must pay or go. This notice had a depressing effect on the young man's spirits and caused him to keep his room closely. Early on Monday morning two men came to the house, announced themselves as officers, and demanded to be shown the room of the delinquent lodger, mentioning him by name. The lady led the way to his apartment, where to her astonishment the officers arrested the youthful reprobate for forgery. They searched the trunk and found forged documents therein. Then they said they must take the trunk and its contents to the police station with the prisoner. A hack was called, and away went the three with the trunk. That was the last that the lady saw of her lodger, the trunk or the officers, so-called.

The officers were the young man's friends, and the arrest was a ruse to deceive the landlady and get the trunk out of her clutches.

Smelting Works.

W. R. Chamberlin says he was misunderstood in reference to what he said about Frank Osbiston's project for establishing smelting works in Reno. Certain parties in Denver proposed to Mr. Osbiston to put up smelting works here, they to find $200,000, half the capital, and parties in Nevada $200,000 more. Mr. Osbiston had a promise of $100,000 from John W. Mackay to put in the business. That was about the way the project stood when Mr. Osbiston went east with Mr. Mackay, and before his departure Mr. Osbiston spoke to Mr. Chamberlain hopefully of the enterprise.

Nevada & Oregon R. R.

The meeting of the Directors of the Nevada and Oregon Railroad that was to have been held this morning has been postponed until Wednesday next. Gov. Woods is still absent. The engineers in the office are working day and night on the plans for grading, etc. The work of construction will commence near the corner of Peavine street, a few hundred yards east of the depot. Chinamen, who scent a job from afar as a vulture does a raven, have come down from the mountains in considerable numbers, to get employment on the road. No contracts have yet been let.

Death of J. E. Spencer.

J. E. Spencer, Indian Agent at Pyramid Lake, died on Friday night of pneumonia. He leaves a wife and several daughters at the Reservation. He was a native of Rochester, New York, and it is stated that his remains will be sent there for interment. Mr. Spencer was a highly educated gentleman and a graceful writer. He made a good agent, and was well liked by the Indians and by the whites with whom he came in contact. He had been agent at Pyramid about a year.

Roll of Honor.

Following is the roll of honor in North Truckee school for the month ending November 24th: Fannie Johnston, 97; Josie Gulling, 97; Beanie Gault, 96; Emma Ross, 96; Charlie Bryant, 96; Johnnie Gulling, 100; Jimmie Gault, 97; Edgar Jaquish, 99; Joseph Laking, 96; Charlie Ross, 99; Elwood Jaquish, 95. Neither absent nor tardy, Fannie Johnston, Edgar Jaquish. MINNIE B. GIBBS.

Game in Honey Lake Valley.

Deer are very numerous in Pete's Valley north of Honey Lake, and in the hills about Milford. Jack rabbits are very thick in Honey Lake Valley, formerly of Reno, John Jellison and a Mr. McAdams killed 47 geese in the tules near Janesville in two days last week, besides many ducks. Quail are scarce, grouse are plentiful and sage hens abound. Honey Lake Valley is the place for the sportsman now.

New Ditch.

Mrs. Bidleman has filed a survey of a ditch to start from the south bank of the Truckee river about eighteen miles east of Reno. It is designed to carry 4,000 inches of water for irrigation, and will run through section 6, 31, 32, 33, 34 and into section 35 of township 20, North range M. D. M.

A Mistake.

In noticing the incorporation of the Desert Crystals Salt Company, it was stated that the principal office of the Company would be at Battle Mountain. The main office will be at White Plains, at the Company's Salt Works.

JOTTINGS.

—There are only two prisoners now in jail.
—A housekeeper advertises for a situation.
—District Court will re-open December 15th.
—The "Kentucky flip" is the latest thing in Carson.
—Stocks were firm this morning, with moderate sales.
—Brookins will have the largest assortment of holiday toys.
—A small house is advertised to rent in the 50 cent column.
—P. N. Marker talks of putting up a custom mill at Pyramid.
—Across the street was stolen from the front of Bosch's store on Saturday night.
—The Reform Club entertainment on Saturday evening was unusually good.
—Fifty carloads of rails for the Carson and Colorado passed through yesterday.
—The signal for a meeting this evening has been flying over the engine house to-day.
—The Methodist Sunday School entertainment has been postponed until Wednesday, Dec. 8.
—The Susanville road between Reno and Long Valley is very bad now on account of ice.
—A second story is being added to the "French Saloon and Lodging House" on Centre street.
—The luxury of having a tooth pulled can now be enjoyed in Reno for $1. See notice from Dr. Wagar.
—The Chautauqua Circle will meet at Mrs. Simpson's, on Virginia street, this evening, at seven o'clock, sharp.
—J. B. Rice sold 2034 dozen of Honey Lake chickens in Virginia Saturday for $4.50 a dozen—a very low price.
—A number of drunken Indians disturbed the serenity of Saturday evening on Virginia street and about the depot.
—The epizoo, or horse epidemic, has entirely disappeared from Reno stables. It is still pretty bad in Honey Lake valley.
—Twenty bulls, driven in from the north about a month ago, were shipped by Lee last week to Wells, for Hayes, Carrick & Co.
—All trains were on time last night. The overland made up an hour and three-quarters lost time in the run from Winnemucca here.
—The Reno Knights propose to take a run down to San Francisco Oct. 19th, when the Grand Lodge of California has its annual meeting.
—Dr. Wagar advertises that he will make complete sets of upper or lower teeth, on vulcanite plates, for the extremely low price of $12.50.
—M. O. Folsom, of Lassen county, has bought 900 boxes of Honey Lake apples from Hawcroft and Frank Whiting for the Gold Hill market.
—T. V. Julian is talking quartz mill. He is going to locate it in town and run it by water power, if he can make satisfactory arrangements with Evans Bros.
—No man looks well dressed without a good hat. There is no excuse for wearing a bad one while stylish head coverings can be had so cheaply at the White House.
—Mr. Thompson is moving his plumbing and tinware establishment to the store adjoining Bosch's on Commercial Row. Mr. Cunningham will move his groceries to the same store shortly.
—Some one is writing scurrilous letters to a Reno gentleman who has got tired of them and says he will publish them in the newspapers if he is troubled any more. The letters are libelous of good citizens.
—A book entitled "Page's Theory and Practice of Teaching," containing a school bill drawn in favor of Effie McNeely, was lost off the cars somewhere between Steamboat and Reno. The finder will please leave it at this office.

—There is very poor skating on the reservoir. The ice is strong, but rough and covered with snow a quarter of an inch deep. A little hand pump would flood the ice in half an hour and make the skating as good as can be desired.

Daisy Doped and Dead.

Nadon's racing mare Daisy died yesterday morning. She was "doped," (poisoned) on the day of the recent race with Ballot Box, Jr., and never recovered from the dose. The symptoms are said to have been unmistakably those of "doping." The dose must have been administered while the horse was in the stable, between 11 A. M. and 1 P. M. The mare ran the four-mile race, though evidently sick, and made a close finish. She was a promising young horse and was valued at $250. Daisy was raised on Hines' ranch at Glendale.

Beef Cattle.

G. W. Mapes sold ninety-seven head of cattle on Saturday to Barney Clough. Mr. Mapes is feeding two hundred more on his ranch up north. Good beef cattle are now bringing in this market from 44 to 46 cents.

A Close Call.

Louis Dean's big hotel at Glendale was found to be on fire about midnight last night. After some lively rustling the flames were quenched. A partition was burned away and some floor burned.

A Joke on Conductor Verrill.

The Carson Appeal tells this: There was great hilarity on Thanksgiving day at the V. and T. R. R. depot over the contents of a box car which arrived from Omaha. It reached the city on the 24th, consigned to E. F. Verrill. The freight agent told Ned that the car was there, and the conductor was not a little puzzled to know who had sent him a car load of merchandise. He broke the door in the presence of a large gathering of the force and pushing back the slide saw a colossal pair of boots standing in the center of the car labelled with the compliments of the conductors on the U. P. Division. For a few minutes he was mad enough to pitch the car down an embankment, It appears that the car was of a new pattern which had been shipped to the V. & T. shops as a model for a dozen more, and the boys in Omaha, bent on mischief, hired a shoemaker to construct a pair of boots which covered eighteen inches from heel to toe, and were four feet from the heel to the straps. Verrill now loses considerable sleep trying to study up some sort of a plan to get even. Yesterday the freight bill arrived, and the chances are that it will be squarely repudiated.

M. C. Lake is now driven about in a neat and stylish coupe.
Mr. Campbell, the sheep man, has gone to spend the winter in Illinois.
Jack Nichols, the well-known horseman of Virginia, was in town to-day.
Bishop Whitaker passed Omaha on Saturday. He will arrive to-morrow.
Mr. Mapes started out for his ranch yesterday. He will return with his wife and family in the course of a fortnight. They will make their home with Mrs. Roff for the winter.
—Low Water in the Reservoir.
The customers of the Reno Water Co. will have to get along with a low pressure until some open weather comes, when the new reservoir will be filled again from the Highland ditch. The capacity of the reservoir is sufficient to supply the town for 2 months. The water was low in it when some repairs were begun on the ditch, and the frost has since caused a number of breaks in the ditch, so that it has been impracticable to fill the reservoir. The town supply is now drawn from the old reservoir.

Bear Against Dog.

Great interest was manifested in Carson last week over the expected fight between a young grizzly and Furlong's dog. The match came on Saturday evening, the dog winning. The Appeal says: "Five ferocious rounds were fought, amid an excitement at times which threatened to result in a riot. The bear won the first heat, the dog the second, the third was declared a draw, and the dog took the last two, amid tremendous enthusiasm."

—There is very poor skating on the reservoir. The ice is strong, but rough and covered with snow a quarter of an inch deep. A little hand pump would flood the ice in half an hour and make the skating as good as can be desired.

Wise Women.

Several Reno ladies who have at times sent below for goods, inform the Gazette that they can get as fine goods at as low a price as Isaac Barnett's as they can by sending to San Francisco. They have the advantage of saving in time, and there is a large collection from which to choose.

Spicy and Readable.

A year's subscription to the Weekly GAZETTE for the low price of $1. A dollar thus spent will never be missed and will secure you a spicy and readable journal for a whole year.

The Lake Case.
